WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 2, 1863.

Popular Support of the War.

A recent speech of the Secretary of State at Washington, has excited much attention, and provoked some sharp comments from leading Union papers in the East. He said the people had failed to exhibit sufficient zeal, consistency and determination in prosecuting the war; therefore foreign nations have not discouraged or frowned upon the rebellion; therefore it has received encouragement and aid from foreign influence and from our lack of zeal, and therefore the war was not closed in thirty, sixty or ninety days, as he had prophesied, but has been protracted into its third year.

The Cincinnati Gazette remarks, in regard to this charge upon popular enthusiasm and patriotism, "that in fact the zeal and union of the people in responding to the President's call for the public defense, was a marvel both to ourselves and to foreign nations. A million of volunteers simultaneously sprang up. The Government had more offered than it wanted. The representatives of the people voted more of every supply than the Administration asked. The Administration thought it necessary to put brakes on the popular zeal. Foreign nations wondered at the uprising of the people of the Great Republic, and became the more anxious for its division. What greater exhibition of zeal, unanimity, determination and consistency could have been given by the people, either for force at home or effect abroad? Was this the "listlessness" or "fear" which caused the Secretary's perfected arrangement for closing the war in thirty, sixty, ninety days, or six months, to be overthrown? If so, by what signs will he have popular zeal, determination and consistency shown?

"But may it not be true that a want of zeal, determination and consistency in some quarter, did deprive this great uprising of the people of its due moral effect on the rebellion and on foreign nations? We remember that when Massachusetts soldiers were shot down while marching through Baltimore in prompt response to the call of the Government, and when the way was stopped between the Capital and the loyal people, the Secretary of State wrote to Governor Hicks pledging that if the national volunteers were permitted to come through Maryland they should be used solely for the defense of the Capital. This scarcely exhibited that determination to put down the rebellion which would impress foreign governments.

"In the midst of the great popular uprising to put down the rebellion, the Secretary of State sent a dispatch to Mr. Adams, to be read to the British Ministers, in which was written the following, after stating the President's opinion that the secession tended to anarchy in the seceded States, and his belief that the citizens of those States would not follow the leaders to that disastrous end:

"'For these reasons he would not be disposed to reject a cardinal dogma of theirs, namely, that the Federal Government could not reduce the seceding States to obedience by conquest, even although he were disposed to question that proposition. But in fact the President willingly accepts it as true. Only an imperial or despotic government could subjugate thoroughly disaffected and insurrectionary members of the State. This Federal republican system of ours is of all forms of government the very one which is most unfitted for such a labor.'

"It is indubitable that the British Government and people did not see in this the zeal, consistency and determination to put down the rebellion, which they thought requisite to success. It would be strange if such an attitude on the part of the Government did not convince them that the Confederacy was an established fact. Foreign nations look to our Government for the expression of the spirit of the people. It is the official representative of the people. It would be strange if such an attitude on the part of the Government did not neutralize the effect of even so great an exhibition of popular patriotism and determination."

"For these reasons we are not disposed to reject the cardinal dogma of the Secretary of State, that it was listlessness, inconsistency and irresolution that caused foreign influence to be thrown in favor of the rebellion, and that protracted the war to its third year when it should have been ended in three months. We may even accept it as true. But the Secretary may find the responsibility for this in a quarter which will not compel him to perpetrate this violence on the evidence, and this outrage on the patriotism of the people."

EXACTLY SO.—The Marysville Appeal says that during the latter days of the siege at Vicksburg, the Federal soldiers printed and [illegible] across the rebel lines, a bulletin containing, among other things, the following, which must have set the poor, half-[illegible]-badly-treated rebel soldiers seriously [illegible]:

"[illegible] soldier [illegible], you will be heard of, [illegible] the siege of Vicksburg, [illegible] will be spoken of as heroes. [illegible] form of Government crushes out [illegible] of every poor man; distinction is [illegible] for the aristocracy of the South. You have better friends on this side than that—the friends of freedom."

Never was truth more aptly told. The officers in the rebel armies are all taken from the aristocratic slaveholding class. The soldiers, who do all the fighting and suffering, are the "poor whites," of whom the slaveholders' press and the leaders of the rebellion think and care much less than their slaves. They have been a long time finding this out, but they have found it out at last, and that accounts for the universal demoralization of all their armies.

LETTER FROM HON. L. STOUT.—We cheerfully publish the following, as it is but right that the charge imputed in the letter we published yesterday should be refuted if it can be done truthfully. We have no doubt that Burch lied as to some of the Pacific Delegation, and we certainly will not be unwilling to give any of our citizens the most abundant opportunity to prove their loyalty:

PORTLAND, Sept. 1st, 1863.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

There is a reference in the leading article of your paper to-day, to myself, which I think justifies a reply from me, and perhaps requires me. Without quoting the article, as it is quite lengthy, I desire to say that I never knew or heard before of any preconcerted action on the part of any persons to establish a "Pacific Republic." During the last winter I was in Congress, I heard the subject spoken of quite often in connection with the probabilities of secession on the part of the South, and the question as to what course Oregon would take in such a contingency, was frequently asked me. I always gave it as my opinion that Oregon would remain as she was, in the Union. I always expressed the opinion that it was for her interest to do so, and have not been of a different opinion. If I am not mistaken, I so wrote to friends in Oregon at the time. I am sure I never expressed, or entertained a thought in my life inconsistent with the perpetuation of the Union of all the States. I have differed with some as to the manner in which that object could be accomplished, but never as to the desired end, with any one who had its perpetuation at heart. Perhaps as I was quite intimately acquainted with Mr. Burch, it is but just for me to say, that I do not think even he desired disunion, but only calculated upon a "Pacific Republic," in case disunion was inevitable. At any rate his acts were inconsistent with such a desire. He certainly was in error if he imputed to me a desire for a "Pacific Republic" of any kind.

As to Gov. Stevens, the two great objects I believe he had in view, were to preserve the Union and serve his constituents faithfully; and never did I know a man more indefatigable in his efforts for the people he represented than he. Neither did I ever hear or know of either Gen. Lane or Col. Baker advocating a separate Republic. Trusting that this will be all any one could require upon this subject from me, I subscribe myself,

Very truly Yours,

LANSING STOUT.

Peace Screamers Read This.

You are in the habit of talking about your desire for peace and "reconstruction." The "Democratic" party of New Hampshire in their platform put forth a similar idea, and expressed a willingness to make the most humiliating concessions. To these propositions the Richmond Sentinel responds as follows:

"In that decisive hour, the Democrats of New Hampshire, however willing, could do us no good.

"We had to take care of ourselves. Falling back on our sovereign rights, and calling upon God to vindicate us, we assumed a separate national life. From that time the men who wilfully destroyed the Union have been assailing us with the engines of destruction. They have evinced toward us a malignity which has seldom been paralleled in human history. If it were in their power, they would turn the mountains and pour the seas upon us. They would cover us with consuming lava. They would sink us with the earthquake and overwhelm us with the storm.—They devote us, so far as they can, to the desolation of fire and sword.

"Do the New Hampshire Democrats suppose for one moment that we could so much as think of reunion with such a people?—RATHER TELL ONE TO BE WEDDED TO A CORPSE! RATHER JOIN HANDS WITH A FIEND FROM THE PIT. We exhausted conciliation before we separated. Thenceforth there was no room for so much as a thought of reunion. We had buried our dead out of sight, and the mourners had become comforted. Since that time our false allies have been our vindictive foes. We have ten thousand atrocities to remember against them. The blood of many thousands of martyrs is between them and us. A thousand feelings of horror repel the bare idea of a renewal of association.

"Let not the Democrats of New Hampshire, or such as think with them, deem us bitter in these remarks. Let them put themselves in our places. They know how villainously we have been treated. They know that to have submitted to Lincoln's tyranny, was to have taken the yoke forever. We should have been considered as consulting slaves, and even our unavailing friends would have deserted us. Since that time the only greeting of kind words which has come to us from the North, the New Hampshire men have sent. All, or nearly all beside, has been conflagration, sword, demoniac denunciation, and brutal menace of destruction.—Could a dead love be expected to revive in such a fire? Let not the New Hampshire men press us. We are glad that they have seen fit to manifest a human feeling. We respond to them in that. But between the United States and the Confederate States the best that the future can bring is amicable relations.

"This cruel war may stop if the North so wills it. And when those in the United States who are disposed to deal fairly with us shall gain the rule, we may in time begin to bury the bitter memories which now add energy to our resentments, and make with them treaties that shall be mutually advantageous. Perhaps hereafter good will be revived again. BUT UNION—NEVER LET IT BE MENTIONED! NEVER, NEVER. IT IS IMPOSSIBLE. Let the Democrats at the North content themselves with securing the next best thing. Let them frankly extend to us the hand of peace and propose that the feuds and bitterness of the present be buried, and that the two republics be good neighbors and good friends. It is either this, or the kill, burn, destroy, consume, annihilate of the fanatics. There is no middle course. For ourselves, we shall stand for our liberties and independence as long as they are denied. And God will grant us a safe deliverance."

EMIGRANTS COMING.—We are kindly permitted to make the following extract from a letter received by a firm in this city, written by a gentleman on his way to the Boise mines:

We camped last night on the Weiser, 20 miles this side of Snake river. We met here a train of 40 wagons from Shelby county, Mo. In the train are 170 souls and 780 head of stock. They are Germans, and are going to Marion county, with the exception of a few families who go to Shoalwater Bay. Capt. Wolfe is in command. I rode into their camp this morning and had a tete-a-tete with him. He says they have had no trouble so far; one birth and no deaths. The party look well, and their stock are in better condition than any emigrant stock I have seen on the road, and we have met some 40 or 50 wagons besides these. We have passed a good many pack-trains and wagons loaded with merchandise for Boise.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to August 27th.

FORT SUMTER FLATTED OUT.

Shells charged with Greek Fire thrown into Charleston.

Beauregard Bitterly Angry.

Great Excitement about the Attack on Lawrence.

Greenbacks, 84.

NEW YORK, August 27.—Arago reports she chased a blockade runner off Cape Lookout, and lost sight of her in a heavy fog.

The Port Royal New South reports that the rebel steamer Everglade, with a cargo of cotton and a large number of passengers, including full complement of officers for the new rebel pirate at Nassau, attempted to run out at night and was sunk near Tybee river, on the 22d inst. The passengers were captured—all the rest escaped.

Sterling firm, 36½@36¾; gold opening at 24, advancing to 25, and closing at 23½.

MEMPHIS, August 27.—Great many planters are coming in and taking the oath of allegiance. The Provost Marshal's office has been besieged for weeks by them.

Gentlemen direct from Atlanta, Ga., say Pemberton left there a week since under guard for Richmond. His army is now commanded by Hardee.

CHICAGO, August 27.—Cincinnati telegram says Burnside's advance is within 30 miles of Knoxville. This was on the 24th. Buckner is said to be strongly fortifying that point.

KANSAS CITY, August 27.—Quantrell's men have scattered throughout the border counties, but are still being hunted by all available troops in the district. Many of them abandoned their jaded horses and took to the brush afoot. They were all mounted on fresh horses at Lawrence, and led their own loaded with plunder. Their led horses and stolen goods were nearly all abandoned in the chase. Nearly 300 horses have been taken by the troops, including some taken by the guerrillas at Lawrence. Most of the stolen money has been recovered. Reports have been received that 21 more guerrillas have been killed. Eighty in all have been taken, and many more will be before the pursuit is abandoned. No prisoners have been taken, and none will be. All houses in which Lawrence goods are found are burned, and all horses of known guerrillas are taken, wherever found.

ST. LOUIS, August 27.—The provost marshal of the 6th district says great alarm exists on the Missouri side, citizens being apprehensive that Jim Lane and Jennison, who are at the head of bands in pursuit of guerrillas, will retaliate in kind for Quantrell's destruction of Lawrence. Reports are current that Independence has been destroyed; the report is not believed. The people of Jackson and neighboring counties are fleeing in great numbers, taking their families and goods of value. The alarm extends to Lexington; though no panic, there was much excitement and apprehension of a visit and violent results, from the men of Kansas.

LEXINGTON (Mo.), Aug. 27.—The steamer Live Oak was captured last night by a small band of guerrillas, who robbed the boat and passengers and let both go.

Second Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Richmond papers of the 25th say if Sumter should necessarily be evacuated, the loss would be small, as the enemy cannot occupy it, and it can readily be effectually defended by new fortifications built like Wagner, on which the heavy shot of the enemy can have but little impression. The siege is progressing with desperate energy, and the defense is as furious as the assault. The enemy it seems has been able to throw a few shells into the city, from the distance of 5 miles, and we are told Beauregard has protested against such proceedings on the grounds of inhumanity. His protest will amount to but little if he cannot disable the batteries that throw the shells. The batteries of Parrott guns are distant from Sumter 5000 yards. Up to Tuesday night 2500 Yankee missiles had struck the fort. The damage of course is considerable.

CHARLESTON, Aug. 21.—The Yankee sappers begin to make the approach on Wagner to-day from the nearest marsh. The shot from that fort disabled one Parrott gun, and the James Island batteries exploded two of the enemies ammunition chests. The fire from the enemies land batteries is heavier than ever to-day. A new battery opened on Sumter to-day, and the fire from all the batteries concentrated. Our flag has been shot away six times since the commencement of the attack.

CHARLESTON, August 22.—At 2 o'clock this morning the enemy commenced shelling the city from the batteries of the marsh between Morris and James' Islands, five miles from the city. Twelve eight inch shells fell into the city. No casualties have occurred. The transaction is regarded as outrageous, and a violation of civilized warfare.

ATLANTA, Ga., August 21.—A dispatch of the 20th from Canton, Mississippi, says the Yankees have burned one fourth of the town of Grenada, in a late raid to that place.

A letter from Forrest's command says Col. Dibble had a fight with eight regiments of Yankees at Sparta on the 17th, and repulsed the Yanks with a loss of 40 or 50 killed. Dibble's force was only 600.

ST. LOUIS, August 17.—A Leavenworth telegram says Jim Lane had returned to Lawrence. The force under his command killed eleven guerrillas. Lane is organizing a force to proceed to Missouri early in September. One hundred and sixty bodies had been buried in Lawrence up to yesterday morning. One hundred and eighty-two buildings were burned, and eighty five widows and two hundred and forty orphans were made by this raid.

Dispatches received at headquarters from Pilot Knob, say Col. Woodson's cavalry made a raid to Pocahontas, Arkansas, and routed several bands of guerrillas, captured 100 prisoners, among whom is Jeff. Thompson and staff.

NEW YORK, August 27.—The Arago from Charleston Bar, with dates to the 25th, has arrived, with despatches dated Morris Island, Aug. 24th, at noon, says Admiral Dahlgren, at midnight on Saturday, with five monitors, bombarded Sumter until 6 o'clock. The fort was struck over one hundred times, the balls going through the walls. The whole parapet was carried away. Sumter fired one gun five times, but Forts Moultrie, Gregg and Beauregard fired 300 shells at the monitors. They were struck several times but no harm done. Sumter is now defunct. The last gun was dismounted yesterday. To-day the grand army and naval attack on Forts Wagner and Gregg takes place. Now that Sumter is defunct, the rebels will be driven from Morris Island. Gillmore is determined to have possession to-night.

Gillmore on Thursday notified Beauregard that if he did not surrender the forts he would shell the city in 24 hours. No attention was paid to the demand, and on Friday night Gillmore threw fifty shells, charged with Greek fire into Charleston. On Saturday afternoon Beauregard sent a flag of truce, with an earnest protest, denouncing the Greek fire as a most villainous compound, unworthy civilized nations and demanding more time.

The English, French and Spanish consuls also demanded the short time given, and claimed more time to remove the subjects of their countries. Gillmore replied by renewing his demand for surrender. Beauregard asked for truce of forty hours. Gillmore refused to be, on any terms but unconditional surrender. At 12 o'clock last night shelling with Greek fire was renewed.

It is generally thought that the Stars and Stripes will wave over Sumter to-night.

Evidently there is trouble in Charleston. It is not believed there are over twenty men in the ruins of Sumter. Her guns are now mounted on Sullivan's Island. The end is approaching.

The following is a private dispatch received in this city: LIVERPOOL, August 15th.—Wheat is considerably lower; weather favorable to harvests, which is earlier than usual.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 27th.—Greenbacks, 84.

HOW SOLDIERS FEEL.—Now and then a copperhead entertains an angel compared to a rebel-sympathizing-lickspittle unawares, in the shape of a returned soldier, and at such times the copperheads aforesaid are made to feel a little of the hate which is cherished for them by the brave fellows in the field.

A few days ago a group of these peace preaching fellows were gathered in a certain office in this city, entertaining a returned Irish soldier, with a rehash of their stale talk about Lincoln's tyranny, taxation, Abolition war, etc., and endeavoring to convert him to copperheadism by all the arguments in their poorly informed minds, and as a last resort commenced to abuse Col. Stone. The soldier sat and listened a few minutes and then said: "Ye are as dirty a set of cowards as ever I saw. If ye believe the South is right, why don't ye go and fight for them and not be trying to seduce a soldier like me into your dirty treason? I've fought for the government, and be [illegible] I'll always fight for her; and if any two of yez will step out to a convanient place, I'll fight yo. It'll be bad for the likes of ye when the boys get home." And out of the office he went; but those he left inside were very careful not to follow him to a "convanient place."

Another furloughed soldier was on his way to his home in Jackson county, about a week ago. He had come from Vicksburg, near which place he had been wounded in a fight. Out in Cascade he stopped to get his dinner, and it was not long before quite a number of men gathered around him to question him about affairs down South. He alluded to the marches and other hardships of a soldier's life, and said one or two things which seemed to indicate that he was rather copperheadish.—This gave the home rebels a loophole, and they commenced to abuse the Government, the army, and everything connected with the North and the war. Finally one of them asked him why he stayed in the army—he needn't go back—stay here, you'll be protected—why don't you desert? What do you want to remain in the service for?

"To shoot, just such g—d—n scoundrels as you," he replied in a voice of thunder, and rose as if to square himself for a "set to." His Copperhead questioners were too much in favor of "peace" to encourage any belligerent just then, and so they used their legs in a manner that would have done credit to a race horse.

THE WORD OREGON.—Herndon, a traveler who went from Peru across the Andes and down the Amazon, by order of the Government, found at the source of that river a tribe of Indians, called by the Spaniards, "Oregones, or Big Ears, from the custom of introducing a bit of wood into a slit in the ear, and gradually increasing the size of it, until the lobe hangs upon the shoulder.—They have, however, now discontinued the custom, and he saw only a few old people thus deformed."

The learned are at fault for the name Oregon, as applied to this country. The plant or wood found here. Oregonum, may have been thus called by the botanists from the locality where it abounds. Did the custom described by Herndon prevail here? The Northern tribes of the plains have disfigured their ears and noses, by slitting and wearing pieces of wood or bone in them. Lop-eared, is applied to animals, and well enough expresses the appearance after the use of the knife, upon the human ear. But that such peculiarities should give a name to a great country, or mountain, or river, is one of the oddities to speculate about. Some gentleman has taken pains to cover a broadside of the Sacramento Union with the names of all the books in the world, that have been written about any part of this coast. Possibly some one may find in some of them the word Oregon being used before Carver traveled or wrote his little book.

*

THE HOSTAGE OFFICERS.—The Richmond Enquirer of the 27th July says: "In response to the announcement that General W. H. F. Lee and Captain Winder have been placed in confinement at Old Point, as hostages for the two Yankee officers Flynn and Sawyer, condemned to be shot by the Confederate authorities, our Commissioner has informed the Federal Government that the Confederate Government will not be intimidated by any such threats, and that the execution of said officers will take place as soon as the President may see fit. It is hoped that the Executive will see fit to give the order for execution immediately; and as we have now over five hundred Federal officers in our hands, besides some five or six thousand privates, it is in the power of the Government to carry retaliation to a very bitter extreme. The people call for the death of these two Yankees, and it is useless to delay the death longer."

The overland telegraph makes no mention of their execution.

PITHY THINGS.—Dr. Holmes says of President Lincoln's letter to the New York Democrats, that in it "he unbosoms himself with the simplicity of a rustic lover called upon by an anxious parent to explain his intentions." He compares the newly-fledged champions of free speech to "men who are busy holy-stoning the deck, when all hands are wanted to keep the ship afloat;" and says the idea of "despotism resting on an open ballot box is like that of Bunker Hill Monument resting on the waves of Boston Harbor."

All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town, liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber assures his patrons that his charges are but $1 50 per ton per month storage, and although the rate in wooden buildings is $2 00 per ton, yet the public cannot fail to perceive the advantages the subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place.

DENTAL CARDS.—Certificates received by Dr. W. KOEHLER from his former places of residence:

This recommendation is due Dr. W. KOEHLER, a Practical Dentist, for the skill, thorough professional attainments, and complete knowledge of the science of Dentistry. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Koehler to all who may need or desire his professional services. J. B. TITUS, M. D.

Placerville, May 5th, 1859.

I have known Dr. KOEHLER as a practicing Dentist in this place for some time past. He is thoroughly versed in his profession, and I would cordially recommend him to those desirous of obtaining the services of an educated and skillful Dentist. JOHN COOKE, M. D.

Placerville, May 5th, 1859.

Mokelumne Hill, August 30, 1860.

Having had occasion to employ several operators to construct a set of artificial teeth for me, but without having derived any benefit from them, I at last consulted Dr. W. KOEHLER, to whom I gave my case for another trial. He made me a full set of teeth, which I am now wearing with all the comfort and satisfaction desired, and I would recommend him to all in need of the services of a skillful dentist. W. McFADDEN, M. D.

In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system, is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and if the object is accomplished, then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

Speech of Gen John A. Logan

This brave and successful soldier—well known to the country as a leading Democrat in Congress for several years from Illinois—has recently made a speech to his old constituents, from which we make the following extract. We commend it to the attention of our readers—and especially to those of his political faith, who have not followed him in patriotism either by words or deeds. They will find that he utters a warning to peace Democrats, which they will do well to heed, before the day of reckoning comes with the brave men who will, on their return from service in behalf of the country, hold to strict and severe accountability, those who in their absence have increased the perils of the nation, and of its faithful defenders on the battle field:

It makes no difference whether you call me Democrat, Republican, or Abolitionist—as some have of late named me. It does not change my feelings, does not alter my action. I am for my country every time—for my country first, last and always—and am fighting for the right of that country to be numbered among the honored nations of the earth. Until that is brought about, and this rebellion crushed out, I am but an American citizen. When that right shall have been asserted, then, should we find that there is something wrong in the fabric which our fathers reared, something we desire to change, it will be time enough to come up and demand the change. Now we have this accursed rebellion to root out. It must be rooted out. I am for using every means and all means for putting it to an end. If the people at the North would use the same force Jeff. Davis and his minions use, and were as unanimous as they are—for in the South force of arms compels every man to act as though he sanctioned the rebellion, whether he feels inclined or not—this war would be successfully terminated in less than six months. Every mother's son who is opposed to the war should be compelled to either take up arms against us or for us. Then there would be no talk of peace here in the North, no talk of resistance, no such men as Vallandigham, no such cowards as those who support all such men, and say these things. Vallandigham says he has traveled over the Confederacy—using the term "Confederacy"—not the phrase "so called Confederacy" (for I do not acknowledge the existence of any authority or Government in America aside from that of the United States)—and has not met man, woman or child who does not sustain the war, and who is not determined to fight it out to the death or the bitter end. Vallandigham here simply lies. He tells what is not true, and he knows it. Vallandigham, aside from the leading men—Jeff. Davis, Toombs and Stephens—did not, I venture to say, speak with a dozen persons while taking his involuntary trip through Dixie. Had he done so his report would have been of a different color. The people who are fighting against this Government—the poor whites comprising the rank and file of the rebellion—nine-tenths of them do not know what they are fighting for—do not know what they are fighting against. A majority of them do not know anything—and hundreds of them never saw the American flag in their lives until they saw it march into Vicksburg in triumph. They do not know the Fourth of July, or anything else that is good. But poor and ignorant as they are, let them express their own free minds, and they will, almost to a man, demand a speedy termination of this war—would submit to almost anything rather than fight one day longer as they have been fighting. It is only by the force of bayonets that their army is kept together. Even that cannot prevent their deserters from flocking into Jackson by hundreds, to take the oath of allegiance or to join the Union ranks. And I tell you what I know when I say that it will not be many days ere the entire States of Mississippi and Tennessee will be knocking loudly for readmission to a Union which not long since they thought their puny efforts could quickly dissolve. They are talking of it even now. Speaking of being united, I tell you, by the Eternal God, there was never a more truthful sentence than that of Douglas, "Those who are not with us are against us;" and I reiterate it and add that those who are not with us should be hung, or should be with their Southern brethren, fighting with them. Let them either aid the Government or go where they can bolster up the tottering fortunes of rebeldom. Better have a dozen foes in the fight than one fighting us behind our backs. To all Copperheads. Peace men, agitators, anti-war men—be they Republicans or Democrats—for we have them here, pretending to be both—I have a word to say on behalf of our brave soldiers,—and you have undoubtedly been told that the war has its opposers in the ranks of the Union army. It is an accursed and foul aspersion upon the fair fame of men who are willing to spill their blood—give their lives for their country. They are for our Union. They fight for the people and their country—for the suppression of the rebellion. Let me say to all opposers of this war, the time will come when men composing this great army will come to their homes. They have watched the progress of events with interest. They have had their eyes open upon these unmitigated cowards, these opponents of the country and the Administration—(and the Administration, I contend, is the country)—and when they return it will do the soul of every truly loyal man good, to see the summary manner in which they will cause these sneaks and peace agitators to hunt their holes.

For a few moments the crowd that had gathered around was deeply absorbed in what their "fighting General," as many called him, said, and his remarks, although given upon the spur of the moment, struck home to the hearts of all who listened. Could Logan make the leaders of our people feel as he feels, and hence be enabled to speak as he speaks, this war could not last three months. It would be crushed out by force of numbers alone. After expressing himself somewhat warmly against Copperheads and sneaks, General Logan concluded with the following characteristic apology:

You will excuse me, gentlemen, if, in saying what I have said, I have been rather profuse and heavy in the way of emphasis. Two years away from civilization, with my men, has made me rather emphatic in all my thoughts and words in regard to certain things. I speak emphatically because I emphatically feel that which my tongue finds to say.

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Passed at the Third Session of the Thirty-Seventh Congress.

[Public—No. 17.]

An Act to authorize the raising of a volunteer force for the better defence of Kentucky.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Governor of the State of Kentucky, by the consent and under the direction of the President of the United States, shall have power to raise and organize into regiments a volunteer force not exceeding 20,000, rank and file, to be raised within the State of Kentucky, to serve for the term of twelve months, to be employed within the limits of Kentucky in repelling invasion, suppressing insurrection, and guarding and protecting the public property; Provided, That at any time it may be necessary, in the discretion of the President of the United States, these troops may be employed out of the limits of Kentucky against the enemies of the United States.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the regimental and company officers shall be appointed and commissioned by the State of Kentucky according to the laws thereof: Provided, that the officers of said regiments shall be entitled to pay only when the regiments or companies are filled as now required by law, and while in actual service.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the regiments, when raised and officered as aforesaid, shall be mustered into the service of the United States, and be subject to the command of the President of the United States.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the officers and soldiers thus enrolled and mustered into service shall be subject to the rules and articles of war, and shall be placed on the same footing as other volunteers in the service of the United States as to pay, subsistence, clothing, and other emoluments, except bounty, for and during the time they may be in actual service.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That a portion of this volunteer corps, not exceeding two regiments, may, when necessary, in the opinion of the President of the United States, be mounted and armed as mounted riflemen.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That the President shall have power to make such other regulations in regard to the organization and service of this force as he shall deem expedient for the interest of the service.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That, by and with the consent of the President of the United States, the volunteers authorized to be raised by this act, or any portion of them, may be attached to and become part of the body of the three years' volunteers, according to such rules and regulations as the President of the United States may prescribe.

Approved, February 7, 1863.

[Public Resolution—No. 7.]

Joint Resolution tendering the thanks of Congress to Commodore Charles Henry Davis and other officers of the navy, in pursuance of the recommendation of the President of the United States.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the thanks of Congress be and they are hereby given to the following officers of the United States navy, upon the recommendation of the President of the United States, viz: Commodore Charles Henry Davis, for distinguished services in conflict with the enemy at Fort Pillow, at Memphis, and for successful operations at other points in the waters of the Mississippi river; Captain John A. AYER'S

CHERRY

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

Brimfield, Mass., 20th Dec., 1855.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your Cherry Pectoral. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Utica, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

Springfield, Miss., [illegible]

Brother Ayer: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people. HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., Monterey, Ia., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

West Manchester, Pa., [illegible]

Sir: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., Albion, Monroe Co., Iowa, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

Astor House, New York City, [illegible]

Doctor Ayer, Lowell: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours, with gratitude and regard,

ORLANDO SHELBY, of Shelbyville.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent [illegible]
